

Rights and obligations of an Author

1. The authors of the articles have a right to use materials of the published article:

- in lectures on conferences or for education;
- in dissertation work;
- in the fragments of the next articles.

2. The authors of the scientific articles have an obligation: a) to sign a corresponding form about the conflict of interests; b) to give confirmation, that the given article was not before published in other collections or magazines, including by other languages (Collection of scientific works of « Psycholinguistics. Психолінгвістика. Психолінгвістика» owns an exclusive right on publication of original works, nowhere published before).