

Responsibility of Author

The authors bear the responsibility for: a) pointing of potential conflicts of interests, which can influence on a decision about the publication of their work; b) objectivity of opening the sources of a research which is published; c) correctness of writing of the personal data (last name, first name, patronymic; information about scientific qualification (scientific degree, scientific rank); information about place of work and position; pin data of authors); d) observance of foreseen by the current legislation of authorial obligations.